

Supplementary material has been published as submitted. It has not been copyedited, typeset or checked for scientific content by Acta Dermato-Venereologica

Fig. S1. Itch reduction of mosquito bites does not depend on the time passed between the estimated occurrence of the bite and the heat treatment. Data is shown as mean with SEM as error bars for three time intervals indicating the time interval between mosquito bite and heat treatment. Data shown as '0-1min' includes all itch-ratings ranging from directly after the treatment up to and including one minute after the treatment.

