

Fig. S2. Purpura, bulla formation and significant necrosis accompanied by erythematous swelling were observed. During emergency debridement, necrotic tissues were removed at the deep fascia level. (a) Left arm, (b) right forearm, and (c) right ankle and great toe.