

Fig. S1. Clinical manifestations of PCC cases 1 and 2 (a, b). There are voluminous dermal papillae and an upper dermal infiltrate predominantly consisting of polyclonal plasma cells (c, d). Haematoxylin & Eosin, original magnification  $\times 100$  (c) and  $\times 200$  (d).