

Fig. S1. Patients' unfavoured treatment modalities and main reasons for their selections. (A) Patients were asked to select three unfavoured treatment modalities in order of disliking before consulting with dermatologists. Total scores were calculated using weight as follows: 1st order, 3; 2nd order, 2; 3rd order, 1. (B) Reasons for disliking the three highly scored treatment methods were demonstrated in the picture. Distribution of reasons for disliking specific treatment methods was generally different among treatment modalities ($p < 0.05$).