

Supplementary material has been published as submitted. It has not been copyedited, typeset or checked for scientific content by Journal of Rehabilitation Medicine

Fig. S1. Scree plot showing the eigenvalues related to the component number. According to eigenvalues ≥ 1 , two components could be selected. Analysis: Principal component analysis approach; the rotation method was varimax with Kaiser's normalisation.

